STRUCK BY "BEAN" BALL YOUNG MAN MAY DIE

Raymond H. Black in Critical Condition
After Operation

SKULL IS FRACTURED

Baseball Game Between
"Scrub" Teams Attended
With Serious Results

From a fractured skull caused by being struck with a "bean" ball, Raymond H. Black, a jeweler at J. B. Schaefer's jewelry store, is in the Allegheny General hospital at Pittsburgh in a critical condition. He was taken there late Wednesday night and an operation performed at midnight, when a piece of the fractured bone was removed from the left side of his head. The possible outcome of his injuries will not be known for three or four days.

Young Black was engaged in a "scrub" game between two picked-up teams at the ball park Tuesday evening. He was batting and Albert Schoener was pitching.

A ball was thrown and Black imagining it was coming towards him dodged. He only dodged into the ball. It struck him on the left temple directly in front of the ear at the thinnest portion of the skull. It didn't appear that the ball was thrown hard.

Though a trifle dazed, Black walked home. He even ate supper. Shortly after he complained of a slight sickness at the stomach, and said that his head hurt. From that time forth he grew worse.

Wednesday the young man was in a semi-comatose condition, and was at times delirious. The seriousness of the accident was not at first realized but Wednesday night his critical condition caused somewhat hasty arrangements to be made for taking him to the hospital. The doctors at the hospital when they performed the operation were somewhat dubious about his recovery, but had hopes of pulling him through.

Mr. Black is married and has one child.

UNUSUAL MERIT TO VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

Manager R. L. Barnhart of the Peace theatre has booked some elegant vaudeville acts for the last three days of this week. "The Maderos in the Human Cinematograph," Lynn and Wesley will appear in a comedy playlet, and Lyrica, who is declared to be vaudeville's sweetest singer will appear. The motion pictures for tonight will be "The Sands of Time," a Selig drama, and "Fixing Auntie Up," a Lubin Comedy.

Will Give Up Studio.

Miss Jessie Everhart, who for three years has conducted the Everhart Photographic studio on the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Fifth street is preparing to discontinue her studio the first of August, and will leave at that time for Lorain, Ohio, where she will spend a vacation. After that time she will probably go farther west.

Contractors Work Hard

Building Line From Van
Eman Station Through to
Marianna Coal Regions

With construction work getting rightly started on one railroad in the vicinity of Canonsburg, work on a second line is just beginning. Sub-contractors to the grading of the Chartiers Southern, which is to extend from Van Eman on the Chartiers to Marianna, have been let. Contractors are on the grounds, materials is arriving and gangs of laborers are appearing upon the scene. The Chartiers Southern will follow Linden creek from near its confluence with the Chartiers southward through Linden. For much of the distance on this end of the line little heavy grading will be required.

VERDICT AGAINST ROONEY

Motorman Found Guilty
in Case Resulting
From Accident

MERCY RECOMMENDED

A jury Wednesday returned a verdict in the case of Morgan Elder and Myles Rooney, motorman and conductor, respectively, of a Washington & Canonsburg street car, placed on trial last Monday, charged with being responsible for the death of Joseph Hensel, finding Conductor Rooney guilty of involuntary manslaughter, but recommending him to the extreme mercy of the court. Elder was found not guilty. Rooney will be sentenced Friday afternoon, June 20.

The car on which Elder and Rooney were employed last January 5, struck a work car, head on, at the Castle Shannon stop. Hensel, motorman of the work car, was killed. It was charged that the passenger car had entered the block, when signals had been set against it. It was determined that Conductor Rooney was directly responsible, because he operated the signal and gave his motorman orders to proceed. The defendants contended that the signal was clear.

Streets Get A-Washing.

Street Commissioner Hornell this morning had his street force out hosing the streets of the surplus dust and grime, with which they had become covered. This is something that it is expected will be done occasionally during the summer. The street sprinkler and the street sweeper are good and do their work well, but not quite as well, it has been found as water.

WORRIES OVER THE DEATH OF DAUGHTER AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Grief Over Accidental Killing of Girl Leads Bulger Man to Shoot Himself Through the Heart---Death Instantaneous

Three months ago Lau A. Ritchey, aged 14 years, died from a wound inflicted by a bullet fired from a revolver in the hands of her father, David Ritchey, who lives near Bulger. Wednesday morning the father killed himself by firing a bullet through his heart. Continued worry over the accidental killing of his daughter is said to have been the cause of the deed.

On Sunday morning, March 9, Ritchey, who resided in a small cabin one-half mile north of Bulger, arose about 5 o'clock in the morning and was working with a revolver. He had the hammer raised and it slipped, discharging a bullet which struck his daughter, Laura in the hip as she lay in bed. The wound was not considered serious at first but later she was hurried to a Pittsburgh hospital where she died the following day. Ritchey was discharged at an inquest, the coroner's jury finding that the shooting was accidental.

FRAT DANCE IS ENJOYED EVENT

Alpha Phi Betas of Char-
leroi Entertain Wednesday
Evening at Eldora Park

MANY COUPLES ATTEND

With arrangements perfect and the weather particularly propitious, one of the nicest and most thoroughly enjoyed dances of any summer season at Eldora Park was given Wednesday evening by the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity of young men of Charleroi. So decided an occasion of importance was it in the social calendar that it assumed the proportions of a brilliant event.

Between 80 and 100 couples from numerous cities and towns were attracted to the park by the affair. Young people came from Monongahela, Monessen, Pittsburgh, Brownsville, California, Uniontown, Washington and other inner county points, swelling the crowd and adding to the general gaiety of the occasion.

Dancing was from 8:30 until 1 o'clock. Wheeler's Eldora Park orchestra of five pieces rendered the music. The pavilion was decorated as usual, and adding to the general natural effect the members of the fraternity had the seats covered with white cloth.

The members of the fraternity constituted a committee of the whole that looked to the entertainment of the guests. They entertained well. The patronesses were Mrs. R. C. Mounster, Mrs. George W. Might, Mrs. C. S. VanVoorhis, Mrs. R. A. Roberts, Mrs. G. W. Cooper and Mrs. C. W. Weltner.

TOMORROW LUCKY OR UNLUCKY DAY?

Unbeatable Combination of Figures Rather Point to the Former

FRIDAY THE 13TH, 1913

Imagine two thirteens in a row. Imagine that and then add to it a Friday and look what you have for tomorrow.

By the common superstition tomorrow should be the unluckiest combination of dates in this century. Not again will there be a combination like it until a century has elapsed. There is not a Friday the 13th the rest of the year 1913. Though there are some doubts as to the derivation of the unlucky sign for 13, and there are some doubts as to the authenticity of the derivation, the combination tomorrow is enough to set the whole world agog.

It is so unlucky, according to superstition that it ought to be the luckiest kind of a day.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CHURCH SOCIAL

The Altar Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church has prepared a program of more than usual excellence of musical numbers to be rendered at a social to be held tonight at the church. Mrs. George W. Cooper, Miss Jean Calvert and Misses May and Ethel Barth will have places on the program.

Good Time At Euchre.

The third euchre of the series given by the L. C. B. A. was held last evening in P. H. C. hall. Favors were awarded to Mrs. Thos. McHugh, Mrs. Sarah Rock, Messrs. Thos. Connor, and Geo. Rigby. Next Wednesday evening another euchre of the series will be held in P. H. C. hall at 8 o'clock.

NOTED MEN TO ATTEND SECOND ANNUAL OUTING

Railroaders
to Banquet

Veterans Will Convene Tonight at Turner Hall in Second Annual Meeting

Tonight at Turner Hall the second annual banquet of the More gahela Division Veteran Employees' Association of the Pennsylvania railroad will be held. A special train will be run out from Pitsburg and will arrive here at about 6 o'clock. All employees who have been in the service 21 years or more are eligible to membership in the association, and will probably attend the affair.

TO HOLD FUNERAL SATURDAY

Services for Mrs. Low-stuter to be Conducted by Rev. Richards.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN

Arrangements have been made to hold the funeral of Mrs. Clara Winget Lowstuter, wife of Jacob Lowstuter, who died Wednesday morning at Washington on Saturday afternoon. Services will be conducted at 2 o'clock at the late residence at 531 Fallowfield avenue. The body will be taken by special car to Monongahela where interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Mrs. Lowstuter died at 5:40 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. D. Kightlinger, in Washington, after a protracted illness of typhoid fever, aged 43 years.

Mrs. Lowstuter went to visit her sister, Mrs. Kightlinger, on April 1, and soon afterward was taken ill, fever developing. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Winget, of Charleroi, formerly of Morris township. With her parents she removed from the old home place near Prospeity to Charleroi, about 23 years ago and has since resided here. Several years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Lowstuter, a meat dealer of Charleroi, who survives. Mrs. Lowstuter is also survived by two daughters, Mildred and Genevieve, and three sons, Henry, Edward and Charles, at home; also the following brothers and sisters: John N. Winget, Denver, Col.; Stephen Winget, Charleroi; Oliver Winget, Wilmerding; Mrs. A. D. Kightlinger, at whose home she died, Washington; Mrs. Bertha Sharpneck, North Charleroi; Mrs. Hattie Corbett, Hagerstown, Md.; and Mrs. Isa Muth, Wilmerding, and Mrs. Desie Gear of Connellsville. Her parents also survive.

A collector at once. Apply 536 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi. 273-11

Gov. Tener and Others
to be Present at Elks'
Gathering

LOCAL MEN AT WORK

Committees Appointed to Look After Details From
the Charleroi End

What will be the largest gathering of Elks ever held in Pennsylvania, with one exception, is scheduled for Idlewild Park near Ligonier on Tuesday, June 24. The occasion is the annual outing of various lodges of Elks in Western Pennsylvania being held under the auspices of the Elks' Grand Association of Western Pennsylvania. This organization was effected last year at the suggestion of the Pittsburg Lodge No. 11. B. P. O. E. For the purpose of holding a picnic for Elks in this district. Election of officers resulted in Wm. B. Benham of Pittsburg, district deputy grand exalted ruler, Pennsylvania S. W. as president, R. M. Jantzen of Allegheny, as treasurer, Wm. A. McNulty of Washington as secretary. The picnic was held at the same place and approximately the same date as the one scheduled for this year and it proved to be such a success that it was decided to make the organization permanent, and the same officers were re-elected this year.

Fully 15,000 or 20,000 are expected from the territory represented by the thirty-one lodges composing the Association. This will be the largest crowd ever assembled in Pennsylvania under the auspices of the Elks, with the exception of the meeting of the grand lodge in Philadelphia in 1907. The committee in charge of transportation has made arrangements for sufficient special trains to be run from all points to the ground to accommodate all those desiring to attend.

Governor John K. Tener, a member of the Charleroi Lodge is expected to be present and make an address. Other speakers are Perry A. Shanor, of Sistersville, W. V., a member of the grand forum, grand lodge of Elks; Edwin A. Aimes, Altoona, district deputy grand exalted ruler of Pennsylvania central, and Dr. Leo A. Badger, holding the same position for Pennsylvania north west. In Charleroi Lodge No. 494, the following members have been appointed on the sub-committees of the general committees:

Reception—Gov. John K. Tener, J. E. Masters, H. E. Fergus, D. R. Hornell.

Transportation—A. J. Hainer. Sports—Roland W. Brown. Music—Dr. Geo. H. Smith. Red Cross—Dr. J. Clive Enos.

Railroad Men to Picnic

An announcement has been made by the Pennsylvania railroad of an employees' picnic to be held next Wednesday, June 18, at Idlewild park. It is likely some of the local force will attend.

T. P. Sloan is in Pittsburg today to see the New York-Pittsburg baseball game.

W. B. Taylor is here from a trip in southern states.

J. K. Tener, Pres. S. A. Walton, Vice Pres. R. H. Rush, Cashier.

THE JOYS OF WALKING.

In the June American Magazine
Walter Prichard Eaton writes an article entitled "The Joys of the True Walker." The following is an extract:

"It is all very well for forty thousand fans to cheer the physical process of a 'Smoky' Joe Wood or a 'Rube' Marquard. But it would be more important to know how many of these forty thousand can throw a ball home from center field themselves. It is all very well to have trolleys and motors which make intercommunication easy between distant points. But it would be more important to know in how many cases any useful purpose whatever is served by going from one to the other and back again, except the temporary satisfaction of avague nervous desire for change; and still more important to know who would have the will-power and the leg-power to get there if he had to walk. Walking requires and develops both. It is good for the body and good for the soul, and to all true lovers of the open road and the manifold pictorial beauties of our countryside it is the only form of locomotion.

"The time will yet come when we shall walk again. It is our fate. After all we were born with legs, not cylinders."

ANOTHER SUFFRAGE STATE

Unless the lower house of the Illinois legislature reconsiders its action, that state will in all likelihood become the tenth woman suffrage state in the union. The bill has passed the senate, and it is expected that the governor will sign it. A motion however, has been made in the house to reconsider the bill, but it is not thought that the motion will carry.

This act according to the newspaper reports, become a law without a popular vote and grants women the ballot for presidential elections and all statutory officers. It does not permit them to vote for members of congress or of the legislature or other officers created by the constitution, as an amendment of the constitution would be necessary. But on offices created by the legislature and the method of filling which had already been prescribed by the legislature, the bill simply amends those provisions to include the permission to women to vote. This will give them the right to vote in municipal elections and for many administrative offices.

While this law limits woman suffrage in Illinois, it is a distinct gain.
It gives the women a voice in their municipal and county affairs. Once granted that much it will not be long until the women of Illinois will be in full possession of their rights.
Limited suffrage is better than no suffrage at all, but unlimited suffrage is the ultimate goal.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Falling off of tops of buildings may be lots of fun, but there are grave doubts as to it becoming fashionable.

It apparently is quite customary for nobody to be guilty in West Virginia. That's the keynote, and everybody's guilty.

Now it seems that there was a lobby, but nobody knows on whose side it existed.

It looks bad for the national game when a mere Chinese university team can come all the way from the land of the celestial and everlastingly whale the home college team. The dope isn't working right.

If the English militant suffragists want to be known as belligerents, they are certainly succeeding.

The weather the year 1913 has certainly acquired records that will be hard for any year to beat yet to come.

On the American continent there are 1624 languages and dialects made use of. And the Monessen count hasn't yet been made.

China started the manufacture of fireworks. But it took America to develop it as an industry.

If it is all the same to the weather man, we would much rather wait until next winter to get out our overcoats.

According to an expert there is something wrong with nearly all the women's feet. Perhaps it is that the feet are made too big for the shoes these days.

Pittsburg with an $1,100,000 hump out is up-to-date in the same sense that a man is after he has his appendix extracted.

Some of the exchanges are very much exercises over the matter of whether it is possible to subtract two quarts of milk from one cow. Much depends upon the cow.

NORTH CHARLEROI

Mrs. Holmes was a visitor in Pittsburg Tuesday.

Miss Goldie Kibler entertained about 12 of her friends Wednesday at a picnic on the out-skirts of Lock View Terrace. An interesting program was carried out consisting of recitations and singing. At 12 o'clock the well filled baskets were emptied after which the afternoon was spent in games.

formed at the home of Rev. J. T.
Hackett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock Wednes-

Ohio, where they will live. Mrs.
Clenson is well known along the Monongahela valley. Her husband is an estimable business man of Ohio.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In his address at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue
Wednesday night Prof. Frank Mid-ney, a Socialist speaker, told a good story to illustrate his argument as to why the state should take over all productive enterprises.

"I was once visiting a friend in the country," said Prof. Midney, "and we one day went hunting, during which time we located a bee tree. Proceeding axes and buckets we cut the tree and secured about twenty pounds of fine honey. After eating all we wanted we took the honey to the home of my friend, who stored it away in the attic, in order to hide
it from his kid brothers and sisters.
Then we left for a two weeks' jaunt.
Returning, we were surprised to find that the honey had all disappeared. We were puzzled, and began searching for the cause of the disappearance. Finally my friend discovered a knot hole in the attic wall, around which were signs of pollen.

"Here," said he, pointing to the knot hole, "is the cause of the disappearance of that honey. Those posky bees have trailed us here, located the honey, and carried every bit of it off while we were away."

"Now," asked Prof. Midney, "did those bees confiscate that honey?"
No. They only took back what they had created—what was their own—and it will be the same when the people take back the wealth and things they have created."

R. S. Coyle of the Coyle Theatre, who is now devoting the most of his time to the management of Shady Grove Park near Uniontown, dropped into this office long enough yesterday morning to tell a good story.

"A man pretty well 'soured' approached the desk of a prominent hotel in one of the large cities and asked for a room along in the small hours of the morning. The night clerk assigned him a room on one of the upper floors and directed him to
it. Returning immediately the man approached the desk, threw back the key, and said:

"Shay, I can't sleep in zat room."
"Well," replied the clerk, "that's as last available room we have."
"I need room, so I guess you'll have to take it."
"I can't sleep there," the man insisted.

"The clerk still argued that the room was all right. But the man was obstinate and finally the clerk bethought himself of a small top floor room that they sometimes assigned to guests in emergencies. Explaining this man was satisfied, and the clerk handed him the key, got him a pitcher of water, and steered him to the elevator. As the man was leaving the desk the clerk asked:

"What's the matter with that first room anyhow, that you can't sleep there?"
"Room's on fire," replied the guest, unconcernedly, as he lurched toward the elevator.

TURNED THE JOKE ON BISHOP

Great Episcopal Churchman Found That Rabbi Could Give as Good a Shot as He Got.

Mrs. Champ Clark, who is as well known for her brilliancy in conversation as her husband, the speaker of the house of representatives, is for his fame in politics, tells this story:

The late Bishop Potter of New York had a most unclerical relish for practical jokes and pointed anecdotes. His cosmopolitan spirit loved men and things, and nothing pleased him better than to gather a group of congenial spirits about him and swap jokes.

One day he met a friend, a distinguished Jewish rabbi, and said to him in great seriousness:

"Rabbi, I am greatly worried about a dream I had the other night. I dreamed I died and went to the Jewish heaven. And who do you suppose were the only occupants?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," said the rabbi.

"Pawnbrokers and second-hand clothing men," laughed the bishop.

The rabbi said nothing.

Shortly after, however, he met the bishop. "Why bishop," he said, "I had a dream myself the other night."

"Yes," said the bishop uneasily;
"and what did you dream?"

"I dreamed I went to the Christian heaven."

"Well," pursued Potter, bracing himself, "who did you find there?"

"Nobody," answered the rabbi.—

WHY THE PASTOR WAS LATE

On the Way to a Wedding He Met a Deer, and Stopped to Kill the Animal.

The Rev. H. H. Thomas, pastor of the Baptist church at Greenwood and Womler, started to Greenwood to officiate at a wedding, and, says the Arkansas Gazette, after a six mile drive from Mount Ida he saw a large deer chased by a pack of hounds.

The preacher forgot about the wedding and followed the deer. He approached the large buck, which came to him, and they "locked horns." The deer lost his footing, and so did the minister, and they went tumbling down the hillside together.

"I came up on top," said the preacher, "and in some way I got my knife open and cut the deer's throat, and while holding to the long, shaggy horns the deer gave a big leap with me and jumped into the water, carrying me with him. There he died in a few minutes and I pulled him out, got a wagon and hauled the deer into Mount Ida."

The preacher, after being three hours late, telephoned to Greenwood, and, buying a new suit of clothes, served at the wedding of W. R. Bur-and Miss Lillian Anderson.

Compliments of the Season.

Whether or not this story, sent to the London Telegraph by its Paris correspondent, is fact or invention, it has so delightful a flavor of the Orient that every one will feel that it ought to be true:

When the sultan of Turkey gave orders for the mobilization of his troops he sent the king of Bulgaria a sack of millet with the following letter:
"Ferdinand Effendi. Mobilize if you like, but be assured that there are as many soldiers in Turkey as there are grains of millet in this sack. Now, if you wish, declare war."

Ferdinand's reply was in kind. He sent a much smaller sack, filled with tiny grains of the hottest red pepper of the country. With it went the following letter:

"Dear Sultan. The Bulgarians are not numerous, it is true, but be assured that to stick your nose into their affairs is like sticking it into our national condom. Try it and see.
They will sting you so sharply that the whole of Asia will not be able to save you."—Youth's Companion.

Wealth in Music.

In view of its strange influence over man's heart and life, it is no wonder that the greatest minds of all ages have taxed all language to express their conception of the full value of music. Our education is too gross and utilitarian. We have made too much of the intellect and too little of the feelings. No parent has done his full duty to his child until during the precious memory years before sixteen he has given the child's mind as a precious memory forever the great patriotic hymns of home and native land, the folklore hymns of his race, the great classic hymns that sing of man's need and the pathos of God's love, the sublimity of immortality and mystery that lies beyond. For music has full power of pathos and sublimity and can lift man into the ether of the upper world, can wash the dust from the soul's wings and make it triumphant.
—N. D. Hillis.

Lack of Space.

Charles H. Taylor, Jr., one of the owners of the Boston Globe, was very busy in his office one morning when there appeared before him Charles S.
Howard, the dramatic editor of the paper, with a big kick about his criticisms having been cut down so that they filled a very little space.
"Can't help it," said Taylor crisply.
"The paper is crowded with advertisements, and they mean money. We must keep that dramatic stuff out down."
"Well, by thunder!" exploded Howard. "I guess next year you'll be ordering me to write wordless criticisms."
"Oh, no," said Taylor lightly; "not wordless—just spaceless."

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN TORE HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it."

"I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends." — Mrs. FRED STONE, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down
feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

We Put the "I" in Printing

INNUMERABLE opportunities await the wise man who incorporates brains in his printing.

INDIVIDUALITY can be as well expressed in printed matter as in clothes.

IDEAS that impel attention and improve business are always best presented in good ink work.

IMPORTANT communications imbued with that intangible something which incites interest, initiates investigations, and instigates immediate inquiries, demand immaculate printing.

INK imagination is not an innovation in this print shop. Ideals in illuminative inking and incisive impression are high here, but our imprint does not increase the inexpensiveness of our product.

IDENTIFY yourself with the printer who strives to merit your implicit confidence.

Thanks to the Cartoonist.
Party emblems that figure on ballots represent the more serious purposes and type the traditions of various political followings; but the emblems that the cartoonists and humorists have established are the more popular, because they represent that cheerful mood in which a majority of persons attack politics without abandoning the earnest aim that underlies its manifestations.—Judge

Science and Death.
"Even in the face of the inexorable law of death," says the Lancet, "science still has a consoling message. It can hold out the hope that one day the ravages of disease may so far be eliminated that death will be nothing more than a quiet and painless phenomenon. It will cease to be feared, and come even to be desired as a fitting close to a weary day."

Watch Built in a Pearl.
A tiny watch, which has been made inside a pearl as large as a big pea, has just been constructed by Gallopini & Co. of Geneva, fifteen months being spent on the work. The empty pearl weighed forty-five grains and in diameter is less than an inch. This pearl watch can be worn on a ring or as a pendant and cost $6,000.

Still at It.
"I wonder what has become of my husband. Three days ago I sent him to match a sample at a department store. He hasn't been seen since." "I saw him yesterday. He was at the third counter of the fourteenth aisle, and was just starting for the fourteenth counter of the third aisle."—Washington Herald.

Caution.
"Shall I empty your wastebasket?" asked the janitor. "It is brimful of correspondence." "No," answered the man who is combining politics with high finance. "Just hand me my bonds and stock certificates and I'll stuff 'em in some pigeonhole so that you can lock the wastebasket in the safe."

"Costermonger."
Ribbed costard apples, a cooking kind, are now to be seen in the shops. The costard is referred to in the household accounts of Edward I., in whose reign the street seller of the apple was called a costardmonger—hence "costermonger" and "coster."—London Standard.

Apology.
Conjuror—"Now, sir, you admit that the card you have just taken out of the handkerchief is the queen of clubs, yet the card you chose and securely tied there—namely, the ace of spades—I now produce from this hat." Timid Volunteer—"So sorry—my mistake."—Punch.

Home Happiness.
Probably nineteen-twentieths of the happiness you will ever have, you will get at home. The independence that comes to a man when his work is over, and the feeling that he has run out of the storm into the quiet harbor of home, where he can rest in peace and with his family, is something real.

Poetry at the Bottom of the Mug.
"He will work," said a Tottenham (Eng.) constable of a defendant, "if he knows there is a pint of beer at the end of the job." This must have been very much the sort of thing Tennyson had in mind when he wrote "Follow the Glean."

To Sterilize Cistern Water.
Cistern water can be thoroughly sterilized by the addition of one-tenth of a grain of hypochloride of lime to the gallon. This does not injure the water for laundry and bathing purposes.

Precious Attributes.
"Why are diamonds so highly valued?" "I suppose," replied Mr. Groucher, "it's because they are made of carbon, which is the equivalent of coal, and at the same time look like ice."

Dog Earned His License.
The little fox terrier of L. N. Hanley won for his master a license tag for the killing of 100 rats. The prize was offered, when the canine had killed 80 in two weeks, by a member of the council.—Carlisle Advocate.

Pity.
A girl who has a steady beau feels the same kind of pity for the girl who sits alone night after night that the boy who can dive has for the one who is afraid to wade in "above his knees."

As a Precaution.
Get a dozen tiny bells, and every time a bottle of poison is brought into the house tie a bell to the neck. Even in the dark the bell will tinkle its warning.

One More Item.
Not that we cannot think of other ways of frittering away money, but some day we hope to be rich enough to afford a "going away coat" for our dog.—Houston Post.

Cheap Dish.
Hunter's stew can be composed of any ingredients which can be obtained conveniently.—London Globe.

Lesson From Flowers.
There is dew in one flower and not in another, because one opens its cup and takes it in, while the other closes itself and the dew runs off.—Beecher.

For Consistency's Sake.
Dorothy—"And what did he say when you proposed?" Madge—"Oh, he looked coy and told me I'd have to see his mother first!"

Knowledge.
There is no wealth like unto knowledge, for thieves cannot steal it.—Burmese Proverb.

College Wisdom.
The big responsibilities of marriage are the little ones.—Dartmouth Jack's Lantern.

His Version.
At an examination held in a junior school a composition on cats was set. One young hopeful wrote the following: "Cats that's made for little boys and girls to maul is called 'Maltese' cats. Some cats are known by their queer purr; these are called 'Purrsian' cats. Others with very bad tempers are known as 'Angor' cats. Cats with deep feelings are called 'Feline' cats. Very fine cats are called 'Magnificats'."

Customer's Protest.
"So you are going on a strike?" said the cafe patron.
"Yes," replied the waiter.
"Great Scott. If I have put up with this place all these years I don't see why you can't!"

Hadn't Done So Badly.
"I might have married a millionaire," declared Everywoman. "One of my old schoolmates is now one." "And several of your schoolmates are working right in this town for $10 a week," retorted Everyman. "While one of them is in jail. I guess in marrying a chap getting $1,500 a year your average is fairly good." And then Everybody set up a howl and they had to stop quarrelling to attend to him.—Pittsburg Post.

Concrete an Old Story.
Rome was not built in a day, nor built as fast as Tammanytown, nor built in structural steel, but it turns out that most of Rome's mighty structures, temples, circuses, baths, aqueducts, were built in concrete, not reinforced with iron and steel, as we build now, but a good quality of sand, stone and cement nevertheless. On this powerful central core of cement was fitted an ornamental facing of finest marble.

PROF. MIDNEY DISCUSSES THE MARX THEORY

Prof. Frank Midney, who was formerly a professor in the University of Chicago, and later a Socialist lecturer and teacher made an open address on the street Wednesday evening, when he endorsed to the fullest extent the collective ownership theory first advanced by Karl Marx. Prof. Midney asserted that at the present time there is too much of the slave in the industrial worker who is employed at a low rate of wage to do work for some one else he ought by the natural order of things to be doing for himself. By the changing conditions the industrial worker has become servile to interests where formerly he enjoyed personal and industrial freedom. His talk was listened to by a good-sized audience, with whom he created a good impression. Prof. Midney is to lecture again on the streets tonight on the subject of women. In this discussion he will treat the woman suffrage question as well as the sex question.

ATTENDED BIG CONVENTION OF ELECTRICAL MEN

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wygant of Tampa, Florida, with their 10 months' old baby, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Van Voorhis of Crest avenue. Mr. Wygant who is associated with the Tampa Electric company, has been attending the convention of the National Electric Light Association at Chicago, and took advantage of the opportunity while north to visit in this section where Mrs. Wygant has relatives.

Mr. Wygant's company has recently installed a "great white way" in Tampa using the side lighting system of ornamental posts and cluster lights enclosed in white alba glass balls, which are manufactured at the Macbeth-Evans factory in Charleroi. The section includes 80 posts to which a contract for an addition of 42 posts has recently been secured. Mr. Wygant's company recently placed an order with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company for 1,000 alba glass balls.

TEACHERS ARE ELECTED FOR EAST PIKE RUN

The school directors of East Pike Run township at a meeting Wednesday filled all the teaching positions in the township, but two and granted a raise of $5 a month to all teachers that have taught in the township for two years.

J. Quay Billingsley was re-elected township principal. The two vacancies are the principalship of the Phillipsburg school and teacher of the Ridge school. Miss Irene Humphries was named township substitute. Teachers and the teachers chosen follow:

Bainesburg—Principal, Miss Co. A. Dewar; Room No. 1, Miss Gertrude Wilkinson.

Phillipsburg—Principalship not filled; Room No. 1, William Sloan; No. 2, Elsie Hassen; No. 3, Florence Woodring; No. 4, Winona Coatsworth; No. 5, Elizabeth McFall.

Galbraith—Katherine McKue. Beadle—Florence Rylands. Knob—Clarice Heiner. Daisytown—Goldie Conaway.

Republican—Principal, J. Glenn Hormell; Room No. 1, Harry Patterson; No. 2, Hila Underwood; No. 3, Mabel Woodring; No. 4, Edna Young; No. 5, Amelia Gallagher; No. 6, Annie Moore; No. 7, Josephine Matzell. Granville—Principal and teacher for Room No. 4, Elsie Richards; Room No. 1, Mary Gallagher; No. 2, Euphenia McNeil; No. 3, Estella A-R-len.

Catch the Drift?

Here's the medium to reach the people of this community.

Rabbits Cause Immense Loss.
Observant and experienced men compute that eight or ten rabbits eat or destroy as much grass as one sheep. As there are so many millions of rabbits in Australia, the loss in the carrying capacity of the country is appalling. The pest in New South Wales is spreading, notwithstanding all that is being done in the shape of trapping, poisoning, fumigating, and digging out.

Pretty Girls and Plain Men.
When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first stepping stone to love.

Child-Training.
It is not fair to a small child for the parents or nurse to be careless about the little things that develop thoughtfulness, self-reliance and self-control in a child. Self-control is a characteristic absolutely essential to manhood or womanhood, and it is not learned in a day. It is the result of patient teaching and training through all the long years of babyhood and childhood.

Thought His Duty Ended.
The Duc de Raguse once explained to the Countess de Boigne the nature of his connection with the emperor as follows: "When the emperor said, 'All for France,' I served with enthusiasm; when he said, 'France and I,' I served with obedience; but when he said, 'I without France,' I felt the necessity of separating from him."

Didn't Appreciate Whitman.
Shortly after Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" made its appearance, J. T. Trowbridge was walking with Lowell in Cambridge, when the latter pointed out a door-way sign, "Groceries," with the letters set zig-zag, to produce a bizarre effect. "That," said he, "is Walt Whitman—with very common goods inside."

Yield of a Grain of Wheat.
Very few people have an idea of the bounty of nature. A scientist of Cambridge, Eng., recently made an instructive experiment which showed that a single grain of wheat sown in June, produced 47 pounds 7 ounces. One acre of fairly good land will produce 30 bushels of wheat or 1,260 pounds of flour.

Nicaraguan "Capote."
Instead of raincoats, the Nicaraguan wears a "capote," which is a piece of impervious material almost square, with a hole in the center large enough for the wearer to put his head through. It is made by pouring rubber over unbleached muslin.

Always There.
A New York theatrical man is advertising for the most beautiful woman in the world, as if every musical show press agent didn't claim that she was in the front row of the chorus—Detroit Free Press.

Motor Car Jumps Three Feet.
A motor car with six occupants dashed up to a drawbridge at Haddiscoe, Norfolk, just as it was being closed, and safely leaped across a space of three feet between the two leaves.—London Mail.

Proof to the Contrary.
"I understand that a number of women have learned to smoke cigars," said the frivolous observer. "I don't believe it," replied Mr. Meekton. "The kind of cigars women buy nobody could smoke."

To Remove Varnish.
Three tablespoonfuls of baking soda in a quart of water, applied with a rough cloth, will remove the old varnish very easily when you wish to revarnish furniture.—Woman's Home Companion.

Whale Cast on Coast.
A whale, weighing five tons, was buried recently on the Berkshire (Scotland) coast. The monster had evidently been run down by a steamer, and was cast up by the tide.

Book Annoyed Him.
"Oh, please do away with that book!" was the remark of a man to the bench, when the conviction book was produced to show that it was his fifty-sixth appearance in court.

Off the Wire.
Operator—"Number, please?" Subscriber—"I was talking mit my husband und now I don't hear him any more. You must of pushed him off de wire."—Milwaukee News.

Shallow of Intellect.
Some men are very interesting for a first interview, but after that they are exhausted and run out.—Charles Caleb Colton.

Preserving Carpenters' Tools.
To keep tools from rusting, place a sponge moistened with coal oil in the tool chest.

Man of No Force.
He makes no friend who never made a foe.—Tennyson.

IS DEAN OF ALL INDIANS

Sitting Elk, Mighty Warrior Who Never Killed White Man, Is Oldest Redman.

Oldest of all Indians in the United States, Sitting Elk, former chief of the Ogallala Sioux, is visiting in Denver, the guest of the white man, against whom he always refused to make war.

For almost a century he has been a leader among his people, but, wiser than other chiefs, he early realized that the red man was doomed and at every opportunity he counseled peace with the palefaces.

He could well afford to do so, for his people knew he was no coward.

"I have never killed a white man," he proudly boasts, "but I have fought many battles, and I have done many brave deeds in my long life of ninety-six years. I was but seventeen when I waylaid and killed my first enemy. That was a very brave deed. Since then I have killed many, many enemies."

Sitting Elk is a total abstainer. He smokes cigarettes but insists he has none of the other bad habits of the white man. He is childless, the last of his line, but he expects to live for many years more—to be hale and hearty long after he has passed the century mark.

Sitting Elk moves tall and stately among his kinsmen, and puffs his pipe with a complacency untroubled by thoughts of any immediate journey to the happy hunting grounds.

Bright of eye, keen of mind, the old warrior dons paint and feathers for his appearance with the younger members of his tribe in the headlong dashes across the amphitheater at the stock yards, and rides with an abandon which defies the spectator to single him from the reckless redskins who have but one-fourth his years to their credit.

To Make Hatpins Safe.

While the many victims in all parts of the country of the woman's hatpin may no longer take much interest in the matter, those of us who have so far escaped injury will be glad to hear of the invention of a hatpin guard. With all that has been done by women's clubs and other agencies to denounce the use of the long hatpin, with all the laws and local regulations against it, and despite the continuing recurrence of accidents—frequently as serious as the loss of an eye—the hatpin is still popular, and women persist in wearing them in crowded street cars and theaters and similar places, where they are most dangerous. But if they cannot be abolished by law, perhaps it will be possible to enforce the covering of their points. That is what this hatpin guard does. It is simple, easy to put on or off, and quite inconspicuous. As seen from the accompanying illustration, it consists of a little knob on the end of a hollow cylinder, which slips over the point of the pin and holds fast by a spring. The inventor of this device is Louis Lasson, the pianist, of this city, who says he was moved to think of the matter by reading of the many serious accidents caused by the hatpin.

YELLOW POWDER IN FASHION

Women of France Now Affect Complexion Showing a Suggestion of Sunburn.

This is the day of the yellow complexion in France. Gone is the fashion of the pearl white powder with which the French woman used to cover her face, achieving a peaches and cream effect or more often a chalky and interesting pallor. Now, to be really in the mode, a woman must use a yellow powder which gives the skin a slight suggestion of sunburn, a good healthy look which might have been brought back from the Swiss mountains or the Egyptian deserts.

One sees this yellow powder used everywhere, at the opera and the theater, in the drawing room and in the Bois de Boulogne, while the grisettes and the little ladies of Montmartre and St. Michelle, quick to follow the fashions, are also adopting it. There is much discussion as to how such a fashion started. The favorite explanation is that a certain professional beauty whose skin refused the pearl powder and delicate pink rouge finally resigned herself to using the yellow powder and appearing healthy and sunburned, and she looked so charming that she started the vogue of the yellow skin, which all Paris is following.

Stickening Worship of Dog.

Olney Wee Blackie, champion Pommeranian, arrived at San Francisco in a private car and immediately disappeared, to be relayed along through three pairs of hands to a mysterious woman, who paid $5,000 for him.

The dog weighs three pounds and four ounces, but the woman who wanted him would have paid more than the $36 an ounce that he cost had it been necessary, to get him.

Olney Wee's ticket from New York to Chicago cost $595. Rather, his ticket cost that amount, because his custodian had to buy 17 of them at $35 apiece so that the dog might have a special Pullman car to himself.

Balkan Kings Speak English.

A peculiarity of the three Balkan rulers, King Ferdinand, King Peter and King Nicholas, is the admirable manner in which they all speak English. That King Ferdinand, a Saxe-Coburg and a kinsman of our royal family, and King Peter, who has spent most of his life in the capitals of Europe, should be conversant with our language is not, after all, astonishing, but it is curious that King Nicholas, who has reigned over his little nation of herdsmen and shepherds for five and forty years, and seldom crosses his own frontier, should be the most perfect English scholar of the three.—London Letter in New York Sun

Dogs Haul $1,000,000 2,000 Miles.

More than $1,000,000 in gold was brought to Seattle, Wash., by the steamer Mariposa from Cordova, Alaska, having been more than two months in transit from the Iditarod district. From Iditarod to Chitina, more than 2,000 miles, the gold was hauled on dog sleds. At Chitina it was placed on a train and caught between two snow slides that tied up traffic more than a month. During that time the express company's guards, heavily armed, watched over the treasure.

BEGAN GREAT CAREERS EARLY

English and American Actresses Who Showed Possession of Genius When They Were Children.

It has been said that seldom do infant stage prodigies fulfill the expectations of the future. As a matter of fact, however, many of our leading actresses began their stage careers when they were children.

Ellen Terry, for instance, made her first appearance in "A Winter's Tale" when she was eight; her sister Kate when she was seven; her niece Beatrice when she was ten, and another place, Minnie, when she was three; while Marion Terry played Ophelia when she was seventeen. Winifred Emery (Mrs. Cyril Maude) made her first appearance on the stage in "The Green Bushes" when she was eight, and gained her first success when she was seventeen.

Referring to American actresses, one might mention Maud Adams, perhaps one of the most successful of Mr. Frohman's "stars," who first appeared on the stage when she was a baby of nine months old, and was a favorite at the age of sixteen. Julia Marlowe made her first appearance in a juvenile production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" when she was twelve; while Maud Fealy first played when she was three.

Indexing Extraordinary.

Indexers have been responsible for many errors, but possibly the strangest example of curious indexing occurs in a law book. Turning over its index, a correspondent of the London Chronicle noted the entry: "Best, Mr. Justice, His Great Mind," and reference to the page brought this: "Mr. Justice Best said he had a great mind to commit the witness for contempt of court."

Destiny of America.

A nation is not a conglomeration of voters, to be represented by hungry politicians empowered to partition the spoils of office, but a people animated by a common impulse and seeking to work out a common destiny. The destiny of America is mutual service; labor is the corner stone of our nationality, the labor of each for all.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Insatiable Ambition.

"I hope our ambitious friend is satisfied," said the philosophic observer. "He has prospered so that he can do as he pleases." "Yes. But that doesn't content him. While he is doing as he pleases he wants everybody to quit work and applaud him for doing it so nicely."—Washington Star.

Law of the Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap destiny.—George D. Boardman.

Voice of the Charmed One.

Fair Suffragette—"And now, if any one who has heard my speech wishes to ask a question, I shall be happy to answer." Masculine Voice (from rear of hall)—"If you haven't any other company, may I see you home this evening?"—Judith.

"Scrub" Teams Attended
With Serious Results

From a fractured skull caused by being struck with a "bean" ball, Raymond H. Black, a jeweler at J. B. Schaefer's jewelry store, is in the Allegheny General hospital at Pittsburgh in a critical condition. He was taken there late Wednesday night and an operation performed at midnight, when a piece of the fractured bone was removed from the left side of his head. The possible outcome of his injuries will not be known for three or four days.

Young Black was engaged in a "scrub" game between two picked-up teams at the ball park Tuesday evening. He was batting and Albert Schoener was pitching.

A ball was thrown and Black, imagining it was coming towards him, dodged. He only dodged into the ball. It struck him on the left temple directly in front of the ear at the thinnest portion of the skull. It didn't appear that the ball was thrown hard.

Though a trifle dazed, Black walked home. He even ate supper. Shortly after he complained of a slight sickness at the stomach, and said that his head hurt. From that time forth he grew worse.

Wednesday, the young man was in a semi-comatose condition, and was at times delirious. The seriousness of the accident was not at first realized but Wednesday night his critical condition caused somewhat hasty arrangements to be made for taking him to the hospital. The doctors at the hospital when they performed the operation were somewhat dubious about his recovery, but had hopes of pulling him through.

Mr. Black is married and has one child.

UNUSUAL MERIT TO VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

Manager R. L. Barnhart of the Peace theatre has booked some elegant vaudeville acts for the last three days of this week. The Maderos will produce a novelty act, "The Human Cinematograph." Lynn and Wesley will appear in a comedy playlet, and Lyrica, who is declared to be vaudeville's sweetest singer will appear. The motion picture for tonight will be "The Sands of Time," a Selig drama, and "Fixing Auntie Up" a Lubin Comedy.

Will Give Up Studio.

Miss Jessie Everhart, who for three years has conducted the Everhart Photograph studio on the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Fifth street is preparing to discontinue her studio the first of August, and will leave at that time for Lorain, Ohio, where she will spend a vacation. After that time she will probably go farther west.

Contractors Work Hard

Building Line From Van
Eman Station Through to
Marianna Coal Regions

With construction work getting righty started on one railroad in the vicinity of Canonsburg, work on a second line is just beginning. The line is to the grading of the Charlestown Southern, which is to extend from Van Eman on the Chartiers to Marianna, have been let. Contractors are on the grounds, materials arriving and gangs of laborers are appearing upon the scene. The Chartiers Southern will follow Linden creek from near its confluence with the Charlestown southward through Linden. For much of the distance on this end of the line little heavy grading will be required.

VERDICT AGAINST ROONEY

Motorman Found Guilty
in Case Resulting
From Accident

MERCY RECOMMENDED

A jury Wednesday returned a verdict in the case of Morgan Elder and Myles Rooney, motorman and conductor, respectively, of a Washington & Canonsburg street car, placed on trial last Monday, charged with being responsible for the death of Joseph Hensel, finding Conductor Rooney guilty of involuntary manslaughter, but recommending him to unextreme mercy of the court. Elder was found not guilty. Rooney will be sentenced Friday afternoon, June 20.

The car on which Elder and Rooney were employed last January 5, stuck a work car, head on, at the Castle Shannon stop. Hensel, motorman of the work car was killed. It was charged that the passenger car had entered the block when signals had been set against it. It was determined that Conductor Rooney was directly responsible, because he operated the signal and gave his motorman orders to proceed. The defendants contended that the signal was clear.

Streets Get A-Washing.

Street Commissioner Hornell this morning had his street force out washing the streets of the surplus dust and grime, with which they had become covered. This is something that it is expected will be done occasionally during the summer. The street sprinkler and the street sweeper are good and do their work well, but not quite as well, it has been found as water.

WORRIES OVER THE DEATH OF DAUGHTER AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Grief Over Accidental Killing of Girl Leads Bulger Man to Shoot Himself Through the Heart—Death Instantaneous

Three months ago Laura Ritchey, an inquest, the coroner's jury finding that the shooting was accidental.

Over in the hands of her father, David Ritchey, who lives near Bulger, have worried constantly over the tragedy. Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock—the same hour on which he inflicted the fatal wound to his daughter—he arose and went to a small outbuilding near his home. His daughter saw him leave the house, carrying a revolver in his hand. He entered the building and closed the door.

On Sunday morning, March 9, Ritchey, who resides in a small cabin one-half mile north of Bulger, arose about 5 o'clock in the morning and was working with a revolver. He had the hammer raised and slipped, discharging a bullet which struck his daughter, Laura, in the hip as she lay in bed. The wound was not considered serious at first but later she was hurried to a Pittsburgh hospital where she died the following day. Ritchey was discharged at

Alpha Phi Betas of Char-
leroi Entertain Wednesday
Evening at Eldora Park

MANY COUPLES ATTEND

With arrangements perfect and the weather particularly propitious, one of the newest and most thoroughly enjoyed dances of any summer season at Eldora Park was given Wednesday evening by the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity of young men of Charleoi. So decided an occasion of importance was it in the social calendar that it assumed the proportions of a brilliant event.

Between 80 and 100 couples from numerous cities and towns were attracted to the park by the affair. Young people came from Monongahela, Moneer, Pittsburgh, Brownsville, Calfo ma, Uniontown, Washington and other inner county points, swelling the crowd and adding to the general gaiety of the occasion. Dancing was from 8:30 until 1 o'clock. Wheeler's Eldora Park orchestra of five pieces rendered the music. The pavilion was decorated as usual, and adding to the general natural effect the members of the fraternity had the seats covered with white cloth.

The members of the fraternity constituted a committee of the whole that looked to the entertainment of the guests. They entertained well. The patronesses were Mrs. R. C. Mountser, Mrs. George W. Might, Mrs. C. S. VanVoorhis, Mrs. R. A. Roberts, Mrs. G. W. Cooper and Mrs. C. W. Welner.

TOMORROW LUCKY OR UNLUCKY DAY?

Figures Rather Point to
the Former

FRIDAY THE 13TH, 1913

Imagine two thirteens in a row. Imagine that and then add to the sting a Friday and look what you have for tomorrow.

By the common superstition tomorrow should be the unluckiest combination of dates in this century. Not again will there be a combination like it until a century has elapsed. There is not a Friday the 13th the rest of the year 1913. Though there are some doubts as to the derivation of the unlucky sign for 13, and there are some doubts as to the authenticity of the derivation, the combination tomorrow is enough to set the whole world agog.

It is so unlucky, according to superstition that it ought to be the luckiest kind of a day.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CHURCH SOCIAL

The Altar Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church has prepared a program of more than usual excellence of musical numbers to be rendered at a social to be held tonight at the church. Mrs. George W. Cooper, Miss Jean Calvert and Misses May and Ethel Barth will have places on the program.

Good Time At Euchre.

The third euchre of the series given by the L. C. B. A. was held last evening in P. H. C. hall. Favors were awarded to Mrs. Thos. McHugh, Mrs. Sarah Rock, Messrs. Thos. Connor, and Geo. Rigby. Next Wednesday evening another euchre of the series will be held in P. H. C. hall at 8 o'clock.

NOTED MEN TO ATTEND SECOND ANNUAL OUTING

Railroaders
to Banquet

Veterans Will Convene Tonight at Turner Hall in Second Annual Meeting

Tonight at Turner Hall the second annual banquet of the Monongahela Division Veterans Association will be held. The occasion is the annual outing of various lodges of Elks in Western Pennsylvania being held under the auspices of the Elks. As exalted ruler of Western Pennsylvania this organization was effected last year at the suggestion of the Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11. B. P. O. E. for the purpose of holding a picnic for Elks in this district. Election of officers resulted in Wm. B. Benham of Pittsburgh, district deputy grand exalted ruler, Pennsylvania S. W. as president, R. M. W. Jantzen of Allegheny, as treasurer, Wm. A. McNally of Washington as secretary. The picnic was held at the same place and approximately the same date as the one scheduled for this year and it proved to be such a success that it was decided to make the organization permanent and the same officers were re-elected this year.

TO HOLD FUNERAL SATURDAY

Services for Mrs. Low-
stuter to be Conducted by Rev. Richards.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN

Arrangements have been made to hold the funeral of Mrs. Clara Winget Lowstuter, wife of Jacob Lowstuter, who died Wednesday morning at Washington on Saturday afternoon. Services will be conducted at 2 o'clock at the late residence at 531 Fallowfield avenue. The body will be taken by special car to Monongahela where interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Mrs. Lowstuter died at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. D. Kightlinger, in Washington, after a protracted illness of typhoid fever, aged 43 years.

Mrs. Lowstuter went to visit her sister, Mrs. Kightlinger, on April 1, and soon after ward was taken ill, fever developing. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Winget, of Charleoi, formerly of Morris township. With her parents she removed from the old home place near Prosperity, to Charleoi, about 23 years ago and has since resided here. Several years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Lowstuter, a meat dealer of Charleoi, who survives. Mrs. Lowstuter is also survived by two daughters, Mildred and Genevieve, and three sons, Henry, Edward and Charles, at home; also the following brothers and sisters: John N. Winget, Denver, Col.; Stephen Winget, Charleoi, Oliver Winget, Wilmerding; Mrs. A. D. Kightlinger, at whose home she died, Washington; Mrs. Bertha Sharpneck, North Charleoi; Mrs. Hattie Corbett, Hagerstown, Md.; and Mrs. Issa Muth, Wilmerding, and Mrs. Desie Gear of Connelville. Her parents also survive.

Gov. Tener and Others
to be Present at Elks'
Gathering

Committees Appointed to Look After Details From
the Charleoi End

When will be a largest gathering of Elks ever held in Pennsylvania, with one exception, is scheduled for Tuesday June 24. The occasion is the annual outing of various lodges of Elks in Western Pennsylvania being held under the auspices of the Elks. As exalted ruler of Western Pennsylvania this organization was effected last year at the suggestion of the Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11. B. P. O. E. for the purpose of holding a picnic for Elks in this district. Election of officers resulted in Wm. B. Benham of Pittsburgh, district deputy grand exalted ruler, Pennsylvania S. W. as president, R. M. W. Jantzen of Allegheny, as treasurer, Wm. A. McNally of Washington as secretary. The picnic was held at the same place and approximately the same date as the one scheduled for this year and it proved to be such a success that it was decided to make the organization permanent and the same officers were re-elected this year.

Fully 15,000 or 20,000 are expected from the territory represented by the thirty-one lodges composing the Association. This will be the largest crowd ever assembled in Pennsylvania under the auspices of the Elks, with the exception of the meeting of the grand lodge in Philadelphia in 1907. The committee in charge of transportation has made arrangements for sufficient special trains to be run from all points to the ground to accommodate all those desiring to attend.

Governor John K. Tener, a member of the Charleoi Lodge is expected to be present and make an address. Other speakers are Perry A. Shanor, of Sistersville, W. V., a member of the grand forum, grand lodge of Elks; Edwin A. Aimes, Altoona, district deputy grand exalted ruler of Pennsylvania central, and Dr. Leo A. Badger, holding the same position for Pennsylvania north west. In Charleoi Lodge No. 494, the following members have been appointed on the sub-committees of the general committees:

Reception—Gov. John K. Tener, J. E. Masters, H. E. Fergus, D. R. Hornell.
Transportation—A. J. Hainer.
Sports—Roland W. Brown.
Music—Dr. Geo. H. Smith.
Red Cross—Dr. J. Chas. Enos.

Railroad Men to Picnic

Arrangement has been made by the Pennsylvania railroad of an employees' picnic to be held next Wednesday, June 18, at Idlewild park. It is likely some of the local force will attend.

T. P. Sloan is in Pittsburgh today to see the New York-Pittsburgh baseball game.

W. B. Taylor is here from a trip in southern states.

J. E. Tener, Pres. S. A. Walton, Vice Pres. R. H. Rush, Cashier.

THE JOYS OF WALKING.

In the June American Magazine Walter Prichard Eaton writes an article entitled "The Joys of the True Walker." The following is an extract:

"It is all very well for forty thousand fans to cheer the physical prowess of a 'Smoky' Joe Wood or a 'Rube' Marquard. But it would be more important to know how many of these forty thousand can throw a ball home from center field themselves. It is all very well to have trolleys and motors which make intercommunication easy between distant points. But it would be more important to know in how many cases any useful purpose whatever is served by going from one to the other and back again, except the temporary satisfaction of vague nervous desire for change; and still more important to know who would have the will-power and the leg-power to get there if he had to walk. Walking requires and develops both. It is good for the body and good for the soul, and to all true lovers of the open road and the manifold pictorial beauties of our countryside it is the only form of locomotion.

"The time will yet come when we shall walk again. It is our fate. After all we were born with legs, not cylinders."

Unless the lower house of the Illinois legislature reconsiders its action, that state will in all likelihood become the tenth woman suffrage state in the union. The bill has passed the senate, and it is expected that the governor will sign it. A motion, however, has been made in the house to reconsider the bill, but it is not thought that the motion will carry.

This act according to the newspaper reports, becomes a law without a popular vote and grants women the ballot for presidential elections and all statutory officers. It does not permit them to vote for members of congress or of the legislature or other officers created by the constitution, as an amendment of the constitution would be necessary. But on offices created by the legislature and the method of filling which had already been prescribed by the legislature, the bill simply amends those provisions to include the permission to women to vote. This will give them the right to vote in municipal elections and for many administrative offices.

While this law limits woman suffrage in Illinois, it is a distinct gain, it gives the women a voice in the municipal and county affairs. Once women have a voice in these affairs, long until the women of Illinois will be in full possession of their rights. Limited suffrage is better than no suffrage at all, but unlimited suffrage is the ultimate goal.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In his address at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue Wednesday night Prof. Frank Midney, a Socialist speaker, told a good story to illustrate his argument as to why the state should take over all productive enterprises.

"I was once visiting a friend in the country," said Prof. Midney, "and one day went hunting, during which time we located a bee tree. Procuring axes and buckets we cut the tree and secured about twenty pounds of fine honey. After eating all we wanted we took the honey to the home of my friend, who stored it away in the attic, in order to hide it from his kid brothers and sisters. Then we left for a two weeks' jaunt.

"Returning, we were surprised to find that the honey had all disappeared. We were puzzled, and having searched for the cause of the disappearance. Finally my friend discovered a knot hole in the attic wall, around which were signs of pollen.

"Here," said he, pointing to the knot hole, 'is the cause of the disappearance of that honey. Those pesky bees have trailed us here, located the honey, and carried every bit of it off while we were away.'"

"Now," asked Prof. Midney, "did those bees confiscate that honey?" "No. They only took back what they had created—what was their own—and it will be the same when the people take back the wealth and things they have created."

R. S. Coyle of the Coyle Theatre, who is now devoting the most of his time to the management of Shady Grove Park near Uniontown, dropped into this office long enough yesterday morning to tell a good story.

"A man pretty well 'soused' approached the desk of a prominent hotel in one of the large cities and asked for a room along in the small hours of the morning. The night clerk assigned him a room on one of the upper floors and directed him to it. Returning immediately the man approached the desk, threw back the key, and said:

"Shaw, I can't sleep in this room."

"Well," replied the clerk, "that's the last available room we have."

"I can't sleep here," the man insisted.

"The clerk still argued that the room was all right, but the man was obstinate and finally the clerk brought himself of a small top floor room that they sometimes assigned to guests in emergencies. Explaining this man was satisfied, and the clerk handed him the key, got him a pitcher of water, and steered him to the elevator. As the man was leaving the desk the clerk asked:

"What's the matter with that first room anyhow, that you can't sleep there?"

"Room's on fire," replied the guest, unconcerned, as he lurched toward the elevator.

TURNED THE JOKE ON BISHOP

Great Episcopal Churchman Found That Rabbi Could Give as Good a Shot as He Got.

Mrs. Champ Clark, who is as well known for her brilliancy in conversation as her husband, the speaker of the house of representatives, is for his fame in politics, tells this story:

The late Bishop Potter of New York had a most unclerical relish for practical jokes and pointed anecdotes. His cosmopolitan spirit loved men and things, and nothing pleased him better than to gather a group of congenial spirits about him and swap jokes.

One day he met a friend, a distinguished Jewish rabbi, and said to him in great seriousness:

"Rabbi, I am greatly worried about a dream I had the other night. I dreamed I died and went to the Jewish heaven. And who do you suppose were the only occupants?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," said the rabbi.

"Pawnbrokers and second-hand clothing men," laughed the bishop.

The rabbi said nothing.

Shortly after, however, he met the bishop. "Why bishop," he said, "I had a dream myself the other night."

"Yes," said the bishop uneasily, "and what did you dream?"

"I dreamed I went to the Christian heaven."

"Well," pursued Potter, bracing himself, "who did you find there?"

"Nobody," answered the rabbi.—Popular Magazine.

On the Way to a Wedding He Met a Deer, and Stopped to Kill the Animal.

The Rev. H. H. Thomas, pastor of the Baptist church at Greenwood and Womley, started to Greenwood to officiate at a wedding, and, says the Arkansas Gazette, after a six mile drive from Mount Ida he saw a large deer chased by a pack of hounds.

The preacher forgot about the wedding and followed the deer. He approached the large buck, which came to him, and they "locked horns." The deer lost his footing, and so did the minister, and they went tumbling down the hillside together.

"I came up on top," said the preacher, "and in some way I got my knife open and cut the deer's throat, and while holding to the long, shaggy horns the deer gave a big leap with me and jumped into the water, carrying me with him. There he died in a few minutes and I pulled him out, got a wagon and hauled the deer into Mount Ida."

The preacher, after being three hours late, telephoned to Greenwood, and, buying a new suit of clothes, served at the wedding of W. R. Burr and Miss Lillian Anderson.

Compliments of the Season. Whether or not this story, sent to the London Telegraph by its Paris correspondent, is fact or invention, it has so delightful a flavor of the Orient that every one will feel that it ought to be true:

When the sultan of Turkey gave orders for the mobilization of his troops he sent the king of Bulgaria a sack of millet with the following letter:

"Ferdinand Effendi. Mobilize if you like, but be assured that there are as many soldiers in Turkey as there are grains of millet in this sack. Now, if you wish, declare war."

Ferdinand's reply was in kind. He sent a much smaller sack, filled with tiny grains of the hottest red pepper of the country. With it went the following letter:

"Dear Sultan. The Bulgarians are not numerous, it is true, but be assured that to stick your nose into their affairs is like sticking it into an national condiment. Try it and see. They will sting you so sharply that the whole of Asia will not be able to save you."—Youth's Companion.

Wealth in Music. In view of its strange influence over man's heart and life, it is no wonder that the greatest minds of all ages have taxed all language to express their conception of the full value of music. Our education is too gross and utilitarian. We have made too much of the intellect and too little of the feelings. No parent has done his full duty to his child until during the precious memory years before sixteen he has given the child's mind as a precious memory forever the great patriotic hymns of home and native land, the folklore hymns of his race, the great classic hymns that sing of man's need and the pathos of God's love, the sublimity of immortality and mystery that lies beyond. For music has full power of pathos and sublimity and can lift man into the ether of the upper world, can wash the dust from the soul's wings and make it triumphant.—N. D. Hillis.

"Can't help it," said Taylor crisply. "The paper is crowded with advertisements, and they mean money. We must keep that dramatic stuff out down."

"Well, by thunder!" exploded Howard. "I guess next year you'll be asking me to write wedding cards."

"Oh, no," said Taylor hastily.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN TORE HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it."

"I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends."—MRS. FRED STONE, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

We Put the "I" in Printing

INNUMERABLE opportunities await the wise man who incorporates brains in his printing.

INDIVIDUALITY can be as well expressed in printed matter as in clothes.

IDEAS that impel attention and improve business are always best presented in good ink work.

IMPORTANT communications imbued with that intangible something which incites interest, initiates investigations, and instigates immediate inquiries, demand immaculate printing.

INK imagination is not an innovation in this print shop. Ideas in illuminative inking and incisive impression are high here, but our imprint does not increase the inexpensiveness of our product.

Thanks to the Cartoonist
Party emblems that figure on ballots represent the more serious purposes and type the traditions of various political followings; but the emblems that the cartoonists and humorists have established are the more popular, because they represent that cheerful mood in which a majority of persons attack politics without abandoning the earnest aim that underlies its manifestations.—Judge

Science and Death.
"Even in the face of the inexorable law of death," says the Lancet "science still has a consoling message. It can hold out the hope that one day the ravages of disease may so far be eliminated that death will be nothing more than a quiet and painless phenomenon. It will cease to be feared and come even to be desired as a fitting close to a weary day."

Watch Built in a Pearl.
A tiny watch, which has been made inside a pearl as large as a big pea, has just been constructed by Gallopini & Co. of Geneva fifteen months being spent on the work. The empty pearl weighed forty-five grains and in diameter is less than an inch. This pearl watch can be worn on a ring or as a pendant and cost $5,000.

Still at It.
"I wonder what has become of my husband. Three days ago I sent him to match a sample at a department store. He hasn't been seen since." "I saw him yesterday. He was at the third counter of the fourteenth aisle, and was just starting for the fourteenth counter of the third aisle."—Washington Herald

Caution.
"Shall I empty your wastebasket?" asked the janitor. "It is brimful of correspondence." "No," answered the man who is combining politics with high finance. "Just hand me my bonds and stock certificates and I'll stuff 'em in some pigeonhole so that you can lock the waste-basket in the safe."

"Costermonger."
Ribbed costard apples, a cooking kind, are now to be seen in the shops. The costard is referred to in the household accounts of Edward I., in whose reign the street seller of the apple was called a costardmonger—hence "costermonger" and "coster."—London Standard

Apology.
Conjurer—"Now, sir, you admit that the card you have just taken out of the handkerchief is the queen of clubs, yet the card you chose and securely tied there—namely, the ace of spades—I now produce from this hat." Timid Volunteer—"So sorry—my mistake."—Punch

Home Happiness.
Probably nineteen-twentieths of the happiness you will ever have, you will get at home. The independence that comes to a man when his work is over, and the feeling that he has run out of the storm into the quiet harbor of home, where he can rest in peace and with his family, is something real.

Poetry at the Bottom of the Mug.
"He will work," said a Tottenham (Eng.) constable of a defendant, "if he knows there is a pint of beer at the end of the job." This must have been very much the sort of thing Tennessee had in mind when he wrote "Follow the Glean."

To Sterilize Cistern Water.
Cistern water can be thoroughly sterilized by the addition of one-tenth of a grain of hypochloride of lime to the gallon. This does not injure the water for laundry and bathing purposes.

Precious Attributes.
"Why are diamonds so highly valued?" "I suppose," replied Mr. Groucher, "it's because they are made of carbon, which is the equivalent of coal and at the same time look like ice."

Dog Earned His License.
The little fox terrier of L. N. Hanley won for his master a license tag for the killing of 100 rats. The prize was offered, when the canine had killed 30 in two weeks by a member of the council.—Carlisle Advocate.

Play.
A girl who has a steady bean feels the same kind of pity for the girl who sits alone night after night that the boy who can dive has for the one who is afraid to wade in "above his knees."

As a Precaution.
Get a dozen tiny bells, and every time a bottle of poison is brought into the house tie a bell to the neck. Even in the dark the bell will tinkle its warning.

One More Item.
Not that we cannot think of other ways of frittering away money, but some day we hope to be rich enough to afford a "going away coat" for our dog.—Houston Post.

Some cats are known by their queer purr; these are called 'Purrian' cats. Others with very bad tempers are known as 'Angrie' cats. Cats with deep feelings are called 'Feline' cats. Very fine cats are called 'Maculifera'."

Hadn't Done So Badly.
"I might have married a millionaire," declared Everywoman. "One of my old schoolmates is now one." "And several of your schoolmates are working right in this town for $10 a week," retorted Everyman, "while one of them is in jail. I guess in marrying a chap getting $1,500 a year your average is fairly good." And then Everybody set up a bowl and they had to stop quarrelling to attend to him.—Pittsburg Post.

Concrete an Old Story.
Rome was not built in a day, nor built as fast as Tammenytown, nor built in structural steel, but it turns out that most of Rome's mighty structures, temples, circuses, baths, aqueducts, were built in concrete, not reinforced with iron and steel, as we build now, but a good quality of sand stone and cement nevertheless. On this powerful central core of cement was fitted an ornamental facing of finest marble.

IS DEAN OF ALL INDIANS

Sitting Elk, Mighty Warrior Who Never Killed White Man, Is Oldest Redman.

Oldest of all Indians in the United States, Sitting Elk, former chief of the Ogallala Sioux, is visiting in Denver, the guest of the white man, against whom he always refused to make war.

For almost a century he has been a leader among his people, but, wiser than other chiefs, he early realized that the red man was doomed and at every opportunity he counseled peace with the palefaces.

He could well afford to do so, for his people knew he was no coward.

"I have never killed a white man," he proudly boasts, "but I have fought many battles, and I have done many brave deeds in my long life of ninety six years. I was but seventeen when I waylaid and killed my first enemy. That was a very brave deed. Since then I have killed many, many enemies."

Sitting Elk is a total abstainer. He smokes cigarettes but insists he has none of the other bad habits of the white man. He is childless, the last of his line, but he expects to live for many years more—to be hale and hearty long after he has passed the century mark.

Sitting Elk moves tall and stately among his kinsmen, and puffs his pipe with a complacency untroubled by thoughts of any immediate journey to the happy hunting grounds.

Bright of eye, keen of mind, the old warrior dons paint and feathers for his appearance with the younger members of his tribe in the headlong dashes across the amphitheater at the stock yards, and rides with an abandon which defies the spectator to single him from the reckless redskins who have but one-fourth his years to their credit.

To Make Hatpins Safe.

While the many victims in all parts of the country of the woman's hatpin may no longer take much interest in the matter, those of us who have so far escaped injury will be glad to hear of the invention of a hatpin guard. With all that has been done by women's clubs and other agencies to denounce the use of the long hatpin, with all the laws and local regulations against it, and despite the continuing recurrence of accidents—frequently as serious as the loss of an eye—the hatpin is still popular, and women persist in wearing them in crowded street cars and theaters and similar places, where they are most dangerous. But if they cannot be abolished by law, perhaps it will be possible to enforce the covering of their points. That is what this hatpin guard does. It is simple, easy to put on or off, and quite inconspicuous. As seen from the accompanying illustration, it consists of a little knob on the end of a hollow cylinder, which slips over the point of the pin and holds fast by a spring. The inventor of this device is Louis Lason, the pianist of this city, who says he was moved to think of the matter by reading of the many serious accidents caused by the hatpin.

YELLOW POWDER IN FASHION

Women of France Now Affect Complexion Showing a Suggestion of Sunburn.

This is the day of the yellow complexion in France. Gone is the fashion of the pearl white powder with which the French woman used to cover her face, achieving a peachy and cream effect or more often a chalky and interesting pallor. Now, to be really in the mode, a woman must use a yellow powder which gives the skin a slight suggestion of sunburn, a good healthy look which might have been brought back from the Swiss mountains or the Egyptian deserts.

One sees this yellow powder used everywhere, at the opera and the theater, in the drawing room and in the Bois de Boulogne, while the grisettes and the little ladies of Montmartre and St. Michelle, quick to follow the fashions, are also adopting it. There is much discussion as to how such a fashion started. The favorite explanation is that a certain professional beauty whose skin refused the pearl powder and delicate pink rouge finally resigned herself to using the yellow powder and appearing healthy and unburned, and she looked so charming that she started the vogue of the yellow skin, which all Paris is following.

Stoking Worship of Dog.

Olney Wee Blackie, champion Pomaranian, arrived at San Francisco in a private car and immediately disappeared, to be relayed along through three pairs of hands to a mysterious woman, who paid $5,000 for him. The dog weighs three pounds and four ounces, but the woman who wanted him would have paid more than the $5,000 an ounce that he cost had it been necessary to get him.

Olney Wee's ticket from New York to Chicago cost $595. Rather, his ticket cost that amount, because his coadjutor had to buy 17 of them at $35 apiece so that the dog might have a special Pullman car to himself.

Balkan Kings Speak English.

A peculiarity of the three Balkan rulers, King Ferdinand, King Peter and King Nicholas, is the admirable manner in which they all speak English. That King Ferdinand, a Saxe-Coburg and a kinsman of our royal family, and King Peter, who has spent most of his life in the capitals of Europe, should be conversant with our language is not, after all, astonishing, but it is curious that King Nicholas, who has reigned over his little nation of herders and shepherds for five and forty years, and seldom crosses his own frontier, should be the most perfect English scholar of the three. London Letter in New York Sun.

Dogs Haul $1,000,000 2,000 Miles.

From the gold mine in Alaska, brought to Seattle, Wash., by the steamer Mariposa from Cordova, Alaska, having been more than two months in transit from the Iditarod district. From Iditarod to Chitina, more than 2,000 miles, the gold was hauled on dog sleds. At Chitina it was placed on a train and caught between two snow slides that tied up traffic more than a month. During that time the express company's guards, heavily armed, watched over the treasure.

BEGAN GREAT CAREERS EARLY

English and American Actresses Who Showed Possession of Genius When They Were Children.

It has been said that seldom do infant stage prodigies fulfill the expectations of the future. As a matter of fact, however, many of our leading actresses began their stage careers when they were children.

Ellen Terry, for instance, made her first appearance in "A Winter's Tale" when she was eight; her sister Kate when she was seven; her niece Beatrice when she was ten, and another niece, Minnie, when she was three; while Marion Terry played Ophelia when she was seventeen. Winifred Emery (Mrs. Cyril Maude) made her first appearance on the stage in "The Green Bushes" when she was eight, and gained her first success when she was seventeen.

Referring to American actresses, one might mention Maud Adams, perhaps one of the most successful of Mr. Frohman's "stars," who first appeared on the stage when she was a baby of nine months old, and was a favorite at the age of sixteen. Julia Marlowe made her first appearance in a juvenile production of "H. M. S. Pinafore" when she was twelve; while Maud Fealy first played when she was three.

Indexing Extraordinary.

Indexers have been responsible for many errors, but possibly the strangest example of curious indexing occurs in a law book. Turning over its index, a correspondent of the London Chronicle noted the entry "Best, Mr. Justice, His Great Mind," and reference to the page brought this "Mr. Justice Best said he had a great mind to commit the witness for contempt of court."

Destiny of America.

A nation is not a conglomeration of voters, to be represented by hungry politicians empowered to partition the spoils of office, but a people animated by a common impulse and seeking to work out a common destiny. The destiny of America is mutual service; labor is the corner stone of our nationality, the labor of each for all.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Insatiable Ambition.

"I hope our ambitious friend is satisfied," said the philosophic observer. "He has prospered so that he can do as he pleases." "Yes. But that doesn't content him. While he is doing as he pleases he wants everybody to quit work and applaud him for doing it so nicely."—Washington Star.

Law of the Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a custom; sow a custom and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

Voice of the Charmed One.

Fair Suffragette—"And now, if any one who has heard my speech wishes to ask a question, I shall be happy to answer." Masculine Voice (from rear of hall)—"If you haven't any other company, may I see you home this evening?"—Judea.

PROF. MIDNEY

DISCUSSES THE MARX THEORY

Prof. Frank Midney, who was formerly a professor in the University of Chicago, and later a Socialist lecturer and teacher made an open address on the street Wednesday evening, when he endorsed the fullest extent the collective ownership theory first advanced by Karl Marx. Prof. Midney asserted that at the present time there is too much of the slave in the industrial worker who is employed at a low rate of wage to do work for some one else he ought to be the natural order of things to be doing for himself. By the changing conditions the industrial worker has become servile to interests where formerly he enjoyed personal and industrial freedom. His talk was listened to by a good-sized audience, with a good impression.

Prof. Midney is to lecture again on the streets tonight on the subject of women. In this discussion he will treat the woman suffrage question as well as the sex question.

ATTENDED BIG CONVENTION OF ELECTRICAL MEN

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wygant of Tampa, Florida, with their 10 months' old baby, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Varvorh of Crest avenue. Mr. Wygant who is associated with the Tampa Electric company, has been attending the convention of the National Electric Light Association at Chicago, and took advantage of the opportunity while north to visit in this section where Mrs. Wygant has relatives.

Mr. Wygant's company has recently installed a "great white way" in Tampa using the side lighting system of ornamental posts and cluster lights enclosed in white alba glass balls, which are manufactured at the Macbeth-Evans factory in Charleroi. The section includes 80 posts to which a contract for an addition of 42 posts has recently been secured. Mr. Wygant's company recently placed an order with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company for 1,000 alba glass balls.

TEACHERS ARE ELECTED FOR EAST PIKE RUN

The school directors of East Pike Run township at a meeting Wednesday filled all the teaching positions in the township, but two and granted a raise of $5 a month to all teachers that have taught in the township for two years.

J. Quay Billingsley was re-elected township principal. The two vacancies in the principalship of the Phillipsburg school and teacher of the kindergarten, Miss Irene Humphries was named township substitute. Teachers and the teachers chosen follow:

Blanesburg—Principal, Miss Co. Dewar; Room No. 1, Miss Gertrude Wilkinson.

Phillipsburg—Principal, Miss not filled, Room No. 1, William Sloan; No. 2, Effie Hanson, No. 3, Florence Woodring; No. 4, Winona Coatsworth, No. 5, Elizabeth McFall.

Galbraith—Katherine McKue. Beadle—Florence Rylands. Knob—Clarice Hemer. Daisytown—Goldie Conaway. Republican—Principal, J. Glenn Horrell, Room No. 1, Harry Patterson; No. 2, Hilda Underwood; No. 3, Mabel Woodring; No. 4, Edna Young; No. 5, Amelia Gallagher; No. 6, Anne Moore; No. 7, Josephine Matzell.

Granville—Principal and teacher for Room No. 4, Elsie Richards; Room No. 1, Mary Gallagher; No. 2, Euphemia McNeil; No. 3, Estella A-filen.

Rabbits Cause Immense Loss. Observant and experienced men compute that eight or ten rabbits eat or destroy as much grass as one sheep. As there are so many millions of rabbits in Australia, the loss in the carrying capacity of the country is appalling. The pest in New South Wales is spreading, notwithstanding all that is being done in the shape of trapping, poisoning, fumigating, and digging out.

Pretty Girls and Plain Men. When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first stepping stone to love.

Child-Training. It is not fair to a small child for the parents or nurse to be careless about the little things that develop thoughtfulness, self-reliance and self-control in a child. Self control is a characteristic of womanhood, and it is not learned in a day. It is the result of patient teaching and training through all the long years of babyhood and childhood.

Thought His Duty Ended. The Duc de Raguse once explained to the Countess de Bournon the nature of his connection with the emperor as follows: "When the emperor said, 'All for France,' I served with enthusiasm; when he said, 'France and I,' I served with obedience, but when he said, 'I without France,' I felt the necessity of separating from him."

Didn't Appreciate Whitman. Shortly after Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" made its appearance, J. T. Trowbridge was walking with Lowell in Cambridge, when the latter pointed out a doorway sign, "Groceries," with the letters set zigzag, to produce a bizarre effect. "That," said he, "is Walt Whitman—with very common goods inside."

Yield of a Grain of Wheat. Very few people have an idea of the bounty of nature. A scientist of Cambridge, Eng. recently made an instructive experiment which showed that a single grain of wheat sown in June, produced 47 pounds 7 ounces. One acre of fairly good land will produce 30 bushels of wheat or 1,260 pounds of flour.

Nicaraguan "Capote." Instead of raincoats, the Nicaraguan wears a "capote," which is a piece of impervious material almost square, with a hole in the center large enough for the wearer to put his head through. It is made by pouring rubber over unbleached muslin.

Always There. A New York theatrical man is advertising for the most beautiful woman in the world, as if every musical show press agent didn't claim that she was in the front row of the chorus—Detroit Free Press.

Motor Car Jumps Three Feet. A motor car with six occupants dashed up to a drawbridge at Haddiscoe, Norfolk, just as it was being closed, and safely leaped across a space of three feet between the two leaves.—London Mail.

Proof to the Contrary. "I understand that a number of women have learned to smoke cigars," said the frivolous observer. "I don't believe it," replied Mr. Meekton. "The kind of cigars women buy nobody could smoke."

To Remove Varnish. Three tablespoonfuls of baking soda in a quart of water applied with a rough cloth, will remove the old varnish very easily when you wish to revarnish furniture.—Woman's Home Companion.

Whale Cast on Coast. A whale, weighing five tons, was buried recently on the Berwickshire (Scotland) coast. The monster had evidently been run down by a steamer, and was cast up by the tide.

Book Annoyed Him. "Oh, please do away with that book!" was the remark of a man to the bench, when the conviction book was produced to show that it was his fifty-sixth appearance in court.

Off the Wire. Operator—"Number, please?" Subscriber—"I was talking with my husband and now I don't hear him any more. You must of pushed him off de wire."—Milwaukee News.

Shallow of Intellect. Some men are very interesting for a first interview, but after that they are exhausted and run out.—Charles Caleb Colton.

Preserving Carpenters' Tools. To keep tools from rusting, place a sponge moistened with cast oil in the tool chest.

Man of No Force. He makes no friend who never made a foe.—Punnett.
